

Traffic Design Technologist

Hamilton, ON

Traffic signal design is a crucial function within the City of Hamilton in ensuring a transportation and traffic control infrastructure that supports and promotes road safety. With your expertise in transportation engineering, you can play a valuable role in this regard as part of our Roads and Traffic Division team.

Reporting to the Project Manager of Traffic Design, you will be responsible for the design of transportation and traffic control infrastructure. Your primary duties as a Traffic Design Technologist will include detailed design of traffic signal installations, intersection pedestrian signals, mid-block pedestrian signals, pavement markings, traffic calming measures, bicycle lanes, roadway design, on-street parking and pedestrian crossovers.

Your qualifications as a Traffic Design Technologist include:

- Demonstrated experience in Transportation Engineering, with extensive knowledge in Design normally acquired by attaining a Diploma in Transportation or Civil Engineering or an equivalent combination of education and relevant work experience.
- Demonstrated experience in design and drafting software such as MicroStation, GeoMedia (GIS) and AutoCAD.
- Proven knowledge of the principles of traffic and road design.
- Demonstrated knowledge of, and experience with, drafting, design and estimating techniques.
- Demonstrated experience in managing consultants and reviewing submissions.
- Knowledge in Word and Excel, preferred.
- Ability to communicate effectively, both orally and in writing.
